NFI & Emergency Shelter Cluster
Republic of South Sudan
May 2012 Update

9,893 households were supported with NFI and emergency shelter in May.
6,635 were households displaced by conflict; 3,144 were returnees.

Since January, the cluster has supported a total of 37,157 households with NFI and shelter.
In May, transit sites for returnees were triggered in Malakal and Juba, given the possibility of large influxes through the Upper Nile corridor. Medair and IOM collaborated to meet NFI and shelter needs at the sites in Malakal and Juba. The decision to airlift stranded Kosti returnees into Juba was the focus for partners in Central Equatoria State, where South Sudan Red Cross, Street Children Aid, Caritas, and the returnees themselves joined IOM and Medair to deliver support to 2,125 households as of the end of May. The operation continued into June.

Conflict affected IDPs received support in Northern Bahr el Ghazal, where ICRC continued response to those displaced by border conflict, reaching 2,914 households in Jaac. In Fangak, Jonglei, Medair and World Vision provided NFI support by boat to 876 households. LWF plan to complete this response from Bor in June, and are preparing to provide shelter support, with IOM contribution, in Duk and Twic East. They will target those whose tukuls were completely destroyed in clashes earlier this year. In Abyei, Caritas, with the Catholic Parish of Abyei, provided IOM shelter kits to 1,912 of the most vulnerable households among the long-term Abyei displaced in Agok; and in Rumamer, MSF-CH provided NFI to those displaced into the area following bombardments in Unity State.

The Kosti Returns: NTTI Transit Site Juba

The decision to airlift returnees stranded in Kosti to Juba in May saw the NFI/shelter cluster pull together to provide emergency shelter and NFI for the 12,248 people transported to the National Teacher's Training Institute between 14 May and 9June. Medair, IOM, Caritas, South Sudan Red Cross, Street Children Aid, UNHCR and Across worked together to prepare emergency shelter and ensure access to essential household items for the returnees.

Full NFI kits and emergency shelter were provided to each household, since the Kosti returnees arrived by air with very few possessions (compared to arrivals in Renk, where returnees arrive together with their household contents). Additional items were provided to large households.

A range of shelter solutions were identified to ensure that everyone could be catered for within a short space of time: emergency shelter kits were used to construct 33 household shelters; 30 6 by 12m IOM tents, and 13 longhouses constructed by UNHCR/ Across, provided communal shelter; and 394 4 by 5m tents together provided emergency shelter for total capacity of 7,588 people at the site at any given time.

The NFI/shelter team (Medair/IOM/Caritas/Street Children Aid/South Sudan Red Cross) constructed frames in the large communal tents to enable people to use their mosquito nets correctly, and worked with the health promoters on site to encourage their proper use.

The shelter team assisted all new arrivals with shelter allocation, working with the leadership of the Kosti returnees to ensure effective communication on procedure and availability, such as which tents were allocated for men, women and children, and to help resolve disputes.

As the frontline team engaging with the returnees from day to day, links with health and protection colleagues were ensured and appropriate referrals made.

Meanwhile, at the returnee transit site identified in Malakal, Medair provided IOM shelter kits consisting of bamboo poles, rubber rope and plastic sheets to returnees waiting for onward transportation assistance.

Medair, IOM, Caritas, South Sudan Red Cross and Street Children Aid join forces to build shelter at the NTII Transit Site

CAP Mid Year Review

The CAP Mid-Year Review continued in May, and will be concluded in June.

The cluster raised the target for NFI and emergency shelter support in 2012 from 125,000 households to 130,000 households, taking into account increasing vulnerability and the impact this will have on host community ability to support displaced populations with NFI and shelter. With host community resources increasingly stretched, they will be less able to support displaced populations and returnees, requiring the cluster to fill the gaps. The cluster also considered returnee flows, now possible only through a restricted corridor, and increasingly of a different nature, separated from belongings due to the scale and speed of movement. Possible developments in Abyei were also taken into account.

The Peer Review Team (Medair, World Vision, UNOCHA, IOM) will meet on June 4 to consider new and revised projects.
